FROM THE DIRECTOR'S DESK

Spring is here and what better time than now to do some Spring Cleaning!

You should make a schedule by dividing the cleaning tasks into manageable chunks to avoid feeling overwhelmed. Then identify areas that need the most attention and prioritize them. Make a checklist that will help you stay organized and ensures that you do not forget anything.

We find it helpful if you start on one room a week and only work on one room at a time. This makes the task more manageable by breaking it down into smaller, achievable goals. This approach also allows for thorough decluttering and organizing within each space, leading to a greater sense of accomplishment.

Once a room is cleaned and decluttered it will be easier to maintain.
